In Loving Memory of

Darren Cleveland Mitchell

(August 31, 1986 - November 4, 2008)

"Is death the last sleep? No: it is the last and final awakening."

Sir Walter Scott

This memorial website was created to remember our dearest Darren Mitchell who was born on August 31, 1986 and passed away on November 4, 2008. You will live forever in our memories and hearts.

Update: Darren Cleveland Mitchell, Jr. is due in July! Darren blessed us with a baby boy. Congratulations Hannah; and cannot wait until Jr. is given the gift and miracle of life. Darren will live on ALWAYS in our hearts and soon within his son.

Do not stand at my grave and weep:
I am not there. I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow.
I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the gentle autumn's rain.

When you awaken in the mornings hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush of,
quiet birds' circled flight.
I am the soft stars
that shine at night.

Do not stand at my grave and cry:
I am not there. I did not die.

The background is a textured, mottled olive-green color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is a smaller, tighter bud, while the one on the right is a larger, more open flower with many layers of petals. The roses are rendered in a slightly darker shade of the background color, creating a subtle, embossed effect.

Memories

all the gray you turned into colors...

Life with Darren to say the least was ALWAYS interesting. Anywhere we went and no matter who we came across we were forever having fun...and it probably had something to do with the fact that Darren could make friends with anyone! We always used to joke and say that we both could make conversation with a wall which was totally the truth...HA! I am so thankful that I was given the opportunity to have made some incredible memories with him. Whether they were crazy times, party times, relaxing times, or even sometimes fighting times in the end we always knew we loved each other. I will forever cherish our Longhorn and movie date nights and going to parties and downtown was never dull with him either! I'll never forget the night that we rode around on his 4-wheeler til the sun came up steeling street signs...LOL! But I have to say that some of my favorite times with Darren were when we just chilled. Whether we were at my house, his house, or Jon's house we always had so much fun. We didn't have to go out and party to enjoy spending time with each other and thats what true friendship is...when you can sit in a room with someone in complete silence and still know what the other person is thinking. Darren had the type of personality and soul that you could tell anything to. You could tell your deepest darkest secrets to him and he wouldn't judge you. Instead he would share his feelings and thoughts and make you feel like no else mattered in the whole world at that point in time. I love you so much "D" words can't even begin to express how much I miss you and the special bond that we shared. I miss your smile, your contagious laughter, your warm touch, your practical jokes and your BEAUTIFUL soul! But most of all I miss your FACE...I miss you being around. This is not the end but only the beginning of a new and spectacular journey. Fly high my sweet angel boy I will see again someday on the other side...but for now I will see you in my dreams.

Hannah Dickinson

All the memories Darren left with me would take a lifetime to tell. I will never forget the very first day we met until the last day i spent with him. From him never wanting to wear a shirt, forever being a smartass, his drunken nights pissing everywhere but the toilet, his smile, his laughter,his touch, i will never forget any of it. He was the frist person i literally could tell anything and everything to. I dont think there was ever a time i was never smiling or laughing with him. So many things that we wanted to do but never got the chance. That last day we spent together was one of my favorite days. You were so excited about being a daddy. Giving me names and telling me all the things you wanted to do with "lil d." "I hope if its a boy he comes out with tattoos" things like that i will never forget. Thank you for leaving me with the best memories and your great friends to share with our child. I miss you more than words can ever ever express. Forever will you be one of a kind, forever will you be my boogerbutt. I hold our memories close and will cherish them for a lifetime. Ill see you again someday, but for now ill be talkin to you everyday. I love you forever baby.

Elizabeth Battle

There isn't enough space in this world to fill memories of Darren. I'll never forget the times we'd all go riding and his crazy ass would make me so nervous! One wheely after another and haulin' all the way downtown. He was always the life of the party whether he knew everyone or no one...everyone knew his name by the end of the night! Darren, you may have peed all over my apartment but I don't think I'd laughed so hard in a long time! You could always make me laugh and that's someone hard to do when it comes to me and emotion. Thank you for listening to me when I needed someone and you knew I'd always be there in return. God, the day of the Staind/Three Days Grace/Hinder/etc. concert was amazing! Haha, we went crazy. Remember when me, you and Dan went and jacked that bigass construction barrel with the flashing light on top?! Then put it in Pat's garage haha. Getting kicked out of McDonald's was pretty sweet I must say bud lol. Or how bout when you climbed up the three stories to my balcony?! Never a dull moment with you baby. I will always cherish our times together; especially when you came and stayed with me when I was away at school. You were attached to my hip and we were ballin at some pong! I remember how excited you were about your race in Vidalia with your dad that I was going to go to with you guys. I wish I had gone. I miss your eyes and your smile. Your laugh brought life to my soul. You ARE one of a kind Darren and I'll love you forever and keep our memories in my heart. Live your new life Angel, I'll see you again.
